

New children's librarian

Upland Public Library will have a new children's librarian Jan. 1. Dorris Civile, who works in the library's reference section, will replace Bernice Weiland as head of Children's Services. Mrs. Weiland is moving to Indio where her husband has accepted a new position.

College course here

Chaffey College has slated an early childhood education class to be held in Upland during the winter quarter. ECD 120 is a workshop course designed for teachers, parents, para-professionals and volunteers. The class is geared to elementary school observation and techniques.

It will cover language arts, values, parent education, team-teaching, Mexican folklore and childhood growth and development. The first class meets at Chaffey College from 4-6 p.m. Jan. 2. Later classes will be held at Foothill Knolls School in Upland.

Participants can register at the college during the first week of classes, Jan. 2-8, from 7:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. on weekdays except Friday when registration is 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Hugh Smith takes third

Hugh Smith of Upland placed third in oral interpretation of literature at the annual championships of the Pacific Southwest Collegiate Forensic Association. Smith, who is a student at Chaffey College, received a trophy for his "superior" rating. Chaffey College ranked ninth among the 45 colleges participating in the contest.

Pam Lacey honored

Pamela Lacey, a student at Upland High School, has received the good citizenship award of the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR), San Antonio chapter. She was presented an engraved silver Paul Revere bowl for the award which emphasized dependability, service, leadership and patriotism.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myles Lacey of Upland is president of the Upland High School student body and works in an Upland Law office. She plans to study law at Irvine or La Verne College. She has delivered speeches in competition for the Lions, Rotary and Optimist clubs and plays piano and flute.

Miss Lacey has been a member of the Upland High symphony, pep, marching and stage bands and served on the community youth advisory board. She was representative to Girls' State last year and is president of Ayushirians, a service group.

Travel discussed

The desert and the state of Washington will be discussion topics when the travel section of the Ontario-Upland chapter, American Association of Retired Persons meets Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Lew Peterson of Pomona and members of the Pomona Valley Club will present a narrated slide show with musical background.

Peterson has won awards for his slides at the Los Angeles County Fair and in national competition. The meeting, open to the public, will begin at 7:30 p.m. at 404 2nd St., Upland.

Julie Emrich appointed

Julie Emrich has been appointed to direct the Upland Mothers' March Against Birth Defects.

Mothers of children with birth defects often ask "Why did it happen to us," Mrs. Emrich said. Every mother should ask herself "What can I do to help?" she added. Although birth defects have many causes, medicine can prevent, correct and repair many of the problems.

About 60 per cent of birth defects can be prevented if people have the proper knowledge before having children, she said. "Marching mothers not only collect funds," she noted. "They also carry educational materials that tell residents what they can do to prevent their own children or grandchildren from being born with physical or mental handicaps." For more information on the Mothers' March, call 985-1270.

Class for handicapped

A class for the developmentally disadvantaged and their parents is being offered by the Upland Recreation Department and Chaffey College Community Education.

Marian Flowers, a member of the hospital improvement teaching team at Pacific State Hospital, will teach parents and those who work with the mentally handicapped how to diagnose developmental disabilities.

Ms. Flowers will also teach parents how to program activities to lessen disabilities and provide recreational experience for children. She bases programming on sensory-motor development. The class is open to those with all levels of developmental disabilities. It will be held from 9-11 a.m. starting Jan. 9. For more information, contact the Upland Recreation Department.

Slide show on Austria

A slide show on Austria will be presented at 2 p.m. Monday at the Upland Public Library. Dorothy Clayton, who worked for the U.S. Army and spent 13 years in Europe, will show slides she took in Austria. The free program is open to all and is sponsored by ORIFLAMME, a program to involve senior citizens in mass media experiences.

High School sports

Upland High School athletic teams have the following competition scheduled this week: varsity and junior varsity basketball against Chino at 3:15 p.m. Tuesday at Chino; freshman basketball against Chino at 3:15 p.m. Tuesday at Upland.

First woman VP

Iris Pearson of Upland has become the first woman vice president of First National Bank and Trust Company, according to W. T. Kegley, chairman of the board.

Mrs. Pearson, who has been in charge of the bank's personnel office since 1968, has been promoted to vice president and personnel officer. "Her outstanding abilities are a vital asset to our organization and an unquestionable credit to the business world," commented Kegley.

Prior to joining the bank in 1953, Mrs. Pearson was vice administrator of Ontario Community Hospital.

Upland men promoted

Two Upland men have been promoted to new positions at Kaiser Steel. Nicholas L. Richard has become superintendent of central shops, and Max H. Trenkle has been appointed superintendent of 60-inch cold sheet and galvanizing mills.

Richard, formerly superintendent of 60-inch cold sheet and galvanized mills, is general chairman for the 1975 western conference of Association of Iron and Steel Engineers. He holds a B.S. degree from Oregon State University and a master of business economics from Claremont Graduate School. He also has a California state teaching credential.

Trenkle was formerly superintendent of the roll shop department. He graduated from Wisconsin Institute of Technology with a B.S. in civil engineering. Both men joined Kaiser in 1959.

West End Boys' Club

Fighting kids' failures

By LYNNE LOCKE

The West End Boys' Club "fights the failure kids feel when they can't achieve anything," according to Ramon La Porte, Cucamonga branch director.

The program uses recreation to attract the boys, but the real goal is to help each boy develop his potential. La Porte added. Many boys have never succeeded at anything. They may have trouble at school and at home. Some are too small to succeed in athletics. The boys' club organizes activities so all the boys can participate and succeed.

The competition for boy of the month provides a chance for boys to succeed individually, said La Porte. Each month the boy who has earned the most points through participation in activities and clean up receives an award from the boys' club board of directors. The boy and his family also are treated to dinner by the boys' club, La Porte said.

Plans for 1975 include expansion into both Montclair and Alta Loma. The Upland branch plans to start bus service to the club from Montclair this month and also hopes to involve more boys from apartments near the club, according to director Stuart Heald. Other plans include developing a strong parents group to support club activities.

In addition to providing service to boys in Alta Loma, La Porte said the Cucamonga branch hopes to provide more vocational training this year. Many boys graduate from high school but fail because they haven't learned any skills, he said.

The club is hoping to set up a welding class and a music program to give boys skills they can use in society. By providing vocational training, La Porte said, the club can develop good leadership in boys who would become failures otherwise.

The club helps boys develop the motivation to aid the community and to become more interested in education, but boys from the Spanish-speaking community have special problems, noted La Porte. Many have difficulty learning English and don't do well in school. Others have family conflicts because the boys are trying to adapt to a different kind of life and feel their parents can't help. In these cases the boys' club has to take a special role, stated La Porte. He often visits homes to talk with residents and checks with schools regularly.

There has been a change in the community since La Porte arrived in 1967. At that time, he said, "kids were going wild all over the place" with most ending up in juvenile hall and then prison.

Now the Cucamonga club has a strong mothers' group to help with local problems, run cooking and craft classes, and raise money to buy and repair equipment. The group, headed by Mary Lou Hernandez, Velma Felix, and Arline Bustamante, "Really works hard" for the club and the community, said La Porte.

Community groups also have been important in supporting boys' club activities. The Alta Loma-Cucamonga Woman's Club sponsored a reading club where community members helped individual boys improve their reading skills.

A summer speech club was sponsored by the Alta Loma-Cucamonga Junior Women. Boys started with simple speech topics to build their confidence, and the Junior Women treated the winning speakers to lunch.

Volunteers are sought at hospital

San Antonio Community Hospital is seeking volunteer receptionists. Four workers greet visitors each day, present them with passes, answer questions and give directions, deliver messages or gifts.

Often the volunteer receptionists find themselves listening sympathetically in times of trouble and participating in joyous occasions, said Mrs. Ralph Bentley, chairman of volunteers.

Interested residents can call hospital representative Jean Grace at 985-2811, ext. 1567.

Noon Kiwanians offer emergency phone aids

The Upland Noon Kiwanis Club is offering emergency telephone number stickers to all residents.

Each sticker lists the phone number of the Upland police and fire departments and can be attached to any telephone by using the adhesive back. "Lives and property can be saved if these two numbers are readily available," stated Jacques Sophin, major emphasis committee chairman for the Upland Kiwanis Club.

Over 20,000 of the free telephone stickers are available at Security Pacific Bank, 1st National Bank and Trust Co., Bank of America, Pomona First Federal, Upland Savings and Loan, Southern California Edison Co., Rugg Lumber Co., Upland Fire Department and Upland Police Station.

The boys' club often works with small interested groups. By gearing activities to the interests of a few boys, it is easier to encourage and counsel individual boys, La Porte said.

Other programs, such as bingo night, are open to the entire boys' club or the community. One of the Cucamonga branch's biggest successes was winning the 1972 California state soccer championship. That triumph won the team a trip to San Francisco.

Both the Upland and Cucamonga branches encourage boys to be responsible for the equipment they use. The Cucamonga branch has started a new system to give the boys major care of equipment. "We don't want to hand things to the kids, and the mothers' club has to work pretty hard to raise money to buy equipment," commented La Porte.

The clubs have varied activities including team and individual sports, crafts, games and parties. During the summer, the clubs take field trips to the beach, hiking, horseback riding, swimming and camping.

Membership is open to all boys aged 7-17. The membership fee is $1 a year for insurance. The club is open year around with full-time adult supervision. Winter hours are 3-8 p.m. Monday through Friday and 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday.

Both Upland and Cucamonga branches are recruiting boys for 1975 membership. The Upland branch is at 845 W. Alpine and the Cucamonga branch is at 10071 Feron Blvd.

Ballroom dancing

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clark, once noted as one of the best dance couples in Southern California, will begin a five week course in ballroom dance at the West End YMCA on Jan. 7.

New activity classes begin Jan. 6 here

The Upland Recreation Department has slated a new set of classes to begin Jan. 6.

Arts and crafts classes during the winter session include ceramics slip casting, pottery, creative clothing, creative sewing mini-courses, creative stichery, decorative arts for the home, beginning and life drawing, jewelry, Japanese flower arranging, and knitting and crocheting.

Other arts and crafts classes are macrame, needlepoint, painting and collage, landscape painting, patchwork and quilting, zigzag sewing and men's clothing. Food classes are cake decorating and gourmet cooking on a budget. Living in Later Life, a class for senior citizens, also will be offered.

Sports and dance classes include fencing, gymnastics, junior high athletics, karate, table tennis, ballet, tap and aerobics, baton, belly dancing, and adult tap dancing.

Other programs are color, wardrobe and make-up for teens, fashion and color coordination, general car maintenance, Hatha Yoga, Los Olivos Rec. Center, modeling workshop for young girls, Odyssey Teen Club, radio ham operators, body conditioning for women, slim and trim, tiny tots and developmentally disadvantaged.

For further information on times and fees, contact the recreation department, 982-1352, ext. 55 or 56.

Central Avenue project

A $670,000 improvement project on Central Avenue in Montclair is nearing completion.

Jack Devers, assistant Montclair city engineer, said the project, which started July 16, is scheduled for completion Jan. 30.

The project involves center dividers and repaving from 680 feet north of Palo Verde Avenue to Holt Boulevard and three new traffic signals.

Devers said the new traffic signals will be installed at Benito Avenue, Orchard Avenue and Kingsley Street. The traffic signals will be part of a synchronized traffic control system, which is called Traffic Actuated Master Controller and Interconnect System.

For the first time in Montclair, motorists will be able to drive at a set speed and hit all of the traffic signals green.

The new traffic system also measures the traffic and sets the cycle time for the signals at each intersection.

New street signs will also be installed along Central. Devers said the signs are the self-illuminating type.

The center dividers will be landscaped with grass, trees and rocks. They will look like the dividers south of Holt and in the area of Montclair Plaza.

Raised pavement markers will be installed to separate the lanes.

Education class offered

A course keyed to elementary school classroom observation and techniques has been slated by Chaffey College for the winter quarter.

The course (ECD 120), a feature of the early childhood development program, will be in the workshop format, with the first session on campus from 4 until 6 p.m., Jan. 2. Participants will meet thereafter at Mariposa, Sultana and Berlyn Avenue Elementary Schools in Ontario, Richard Gird Elementary, Upland.

Designed for teachers, paraprofessionals, parents and community-minded volunteers, the course is an implementation of the California early childhood education project.

Covered by workshop leaders will be language arts, value clarification, Mexican folklore, parent education, team teaching and growth and development through adolescence.

MOTHERS AND OTHERS — Each week Upland residents gather at the Upland Library to learn different crafts. Examining a macrame bell rope are (from left) Joy Fontaine, Cora Schmitt, Susan Thogmartin and son Trevor. The Mothers and Others craft group meets from 10-10:30 Tuesday and Wednesday under the direction of librarian Corynne Hanzklik. While the adults are learning crafts, librarian Dorothy Farrington holds a story time for preschool children (Photo by Lynne Locke).

Three films, "Vincent Van Gogh," "S.O.S. Galapagos," and "Zero, Zero Romeo" will be shown.

The second program will take place at Upland Public Library, 450 N. Euclid Ave. at 2 p.m. on Jan. 13. The program will consist of the same three films and is designed specifically for senior citizens.

On Jan. 16, the program will take place at the Chino Branch Library again at noon.

The Jan. 16 films will include "Amazing New Zealand," "A Place of Refuge," and "Springtime."

Alta Loma reorganizes school English program

Alta Loma High School's English curriculum has taken on a new look this year. Under the leadership of Joe Palicki, department chairman, the thirteen teachers have developed a sequential composition program.

Following freshmen classes, each student will take either beginning or intermediate composition. Placement is based on a test administered at the end of the freshman year.

Each student who passes Beginning Composition will then take intermediate composition. After each has successfully completed intermediate composition, he will be eligible to take any of a number of elective courses. Available elective courses include: Comp for College I,

Comp for College II, Creative Writing, Journalism, Speech, Literature of Suspense, Gothic Literature, The Bible as Literature, Other Senses Other Worlds and Performing Arts Workshop.

Other elective courses are Humor and Satire, Minority Literature, Man's Search for Meaning (Honors English), Individual Reading, Science Fiction and Mass Media.

Alta Loma girl is married

Newly married Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Del Burrows have established a home at 3032 N. Mountain Ave., Claremont, following their marriage on Dec. 7 at the same address.

The bride, the former Jacqueline Evonne Sloan, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby J. Sloan Sr., 6818 Opal St., Alta Loma.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elden W. Burrows of 282 N. Sierra Place, Upland.

Honor attendant was Carol Aponas of Cucamonga, and best man was Bob Wagner of Claremont.

The Rev. Donald E. Brown, the bridegroom's brother-in-law of San Clemente, performed the ceremony.

Rita Burrows of Upland was the candlelighter, and soloist was Rick Roberts of Ontario. Kristen Loughheed was flower girl.

Following a reception at the home, the newlyweds honeymooned on the Queen Mary in Long Beach.

The bride graduated in 1969 from Alta Loma High School, and is self-employed. She was the 1970 Miss Kentucky in the All States Parade in Ontario.

A 1969 graduate of Claremont High School, the bridegroom is working as a musician.

Ault-Realmuto

The First Assembly of God Church in Chino was the setting on Nov. 30 for the marriage of Candace Lenora Realmuto of Upland and Robert Dale Ault of Phoenix, Ariz.

The afternoon ceremony was followed by a reception in the Social Hall of the church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Ray Realmuto of 1178 Colleen Court, Upland. She graduated in 1973 from Montclair High School and for the past year has been a nurse's aide at Alta Loma Convalescent Hospital, Alta Loma.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Ault of Phoenix, the bridegroom graduated in 1971 from Central Union High School, El Centro. He is a sergeant in the Air Force stationed at McChord Air Force Base, Tacoma, Wash. He served a year on overseas duty in Thailand in 1973.

Roberta Kusler of Upland was matron of honor. Serving as best man was Kenneth Kusler of Upland.

Groomsmen were Salvie Realmuto of Riverside and Peter Realmuto of Camp Pendleton.

Bridesmaids were Lucy Engle of Upland and Janie Realmuto of Covina, and Connie Kostecky of Upland was flower girl. Ring bearers were Jimmy and David Davis, twins, of Upland.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Palm Springs, El Centro, Phoenix, northern California, Oregon and Washington before establishing their home at 11701 Pacific Hwy., S.W., Space 7, Tacoma.

Newlyweds establish residence in Upland

Newly married Mr. and Mrs. Michael James Lee have established a home at 968 W. Seventh St., Upland, following their marriage on Nov. 30 at St. George Catholic Church, Ontario.

The bride, the former Yvonne Gutierrez, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel P. Gutierrez of Cucamonga. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lee of Cucamonga.

Honor attendant was Kathy Gutierrez of Ontario. Best man was Dan Beyer of Cucamonga.

Other attendants were: Diane Lee, Cheryl Lee and Belinda Gutierrez, all of Cucamonga, bridesmaids; Tini and Heidi Gutierrez of Ontario, flower girls; and Oscar Gutierrez and Bob Scanu, both of Ontario. Jeff Lee of Cucamonga and Mike Carrillo of Los Angeles, ushers.

The bride graduated in 1972 from Chaffey High School, where she belonged to the drill team for a year. She is completing her last year of the nurses' training course at Chaffey College.

Gas, fire officials list unvented heater danger

A winter warning about the dangers of unvented heaters has been issued by the four West End fire chiefs and the Southern California Gas Co. Though sale of unvented heaters is now illegal in California, an estimated 150,000 Southern California homes and apartments continue to be warmed by such heaters.

Two dangers from unvented heaters were cited:

— Brain damage or asphyxiation caused by prolonged exposure to deadly carbon monoxide, an invisible, odorless and tasteless gas that is produced if an unvented heater consumes too much of the oxygen available in a closed room.

— A fire hazard resulting from an open, unshielded flame.

Use only approved metal connectors for gas supply lines.

Upland sponsors tennis instruction

Registration is now being taken at the Upland Recreation Department, 404 N. Second Ave., for semi-private tennis lessons to be offered beginning Jan. 13.

The lessons will be taught by tennis pro Mike Bechard at the Upland High School. A $10 fee will be charged for the five lessons.

Lessons will be held on Mondays and Saturdays. Monday, 7-8 p.m. is for adult beginners and 8-9 p.m. is for adult intermediates.

Saturday lessons from 8 to 9 a.m. will be for children ages 8-15 and two classes, 9-10 a.m. and 10-11 a.m. will be for adult beginners.

Ready for spring planting

All-American Gladiolus

This is the time of year when we anxiously look forward to spring and believe it is a good time to tell you that All-America Gladiolus Selections has announced three 1975 All-America glads.

The newest award winning varieties are Green Lilac, Highstyle and Summer Snow. These newcomers to the parade of All-America glads seem sure to gain admiration from flower lovers everywhere. All three are available for planting this spring, provided, of course, you don't wait too long to place an order with your favorite cataloguer or garden supply store.

Green Lilac is a dainty, orchid-lavender with a conspicuous chartreuse-green center. The delicacy of coloring, waxy texture and lovely ruffling of the needlepointed petals will surely charm the home gardener. It also has great show potential.

Phonographs

By JEAN BARNES

Vance VanD. says if he had it to do over again he'd still start with an old upright and pick up some records to go with it.

That's the advice he offers would-be phonograph collectors.

Seated in his living room with a colorful "morning glory" speaker of an early cylinder machine nearby, he explained how his collection began.

He had decided he might like to collect clocks but after a few field trips his interest was diverted by phonographs. After acquiring his first, an upright model with records, he began searching for the early table models.

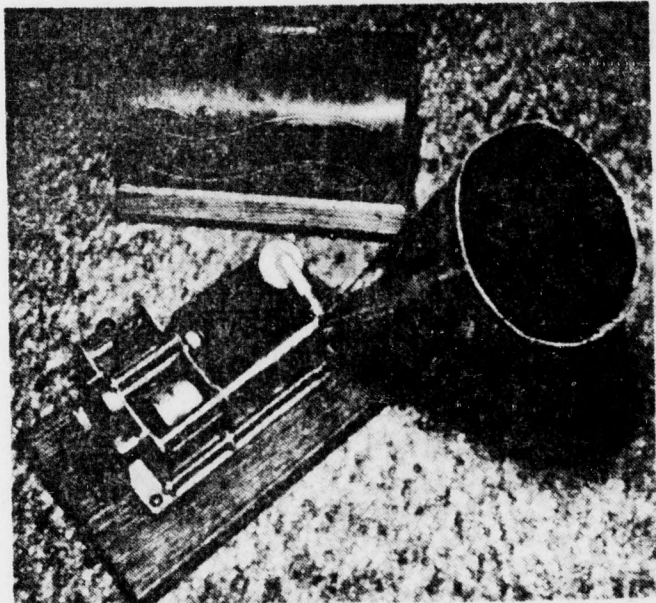

As with most collectibles, prices have steadily increased as the available number bargain prices from time to time.

VanD. describes himself as an accumulator more than a collector, but he confesses to being rather selective in his purchases. A school custodian, he is building his collection with supplemental retirement income in mind.

As he talked about his collection, he began pulling out old catalogs and some of the records which especially interest him. However, nothing about the phonograph has escaped his notice. He has advertisements from aging magazines, supplemental monthly catalogs from major recording firms and the annual catalogs which were distributed.

Soon to have its centennial, the phonograph as we know it decreased. That's why VanD. has bought some in pretty poor condition and put them back in good working order, often rebuilding the cabinets. Some, however, he scraps for parts.

The talking machine approaches its centennial and authentic early models are difficult to find. This Gramophone is key wound, attached to a single piece of wood and portable.

Then there was the time he attended an estate sale which netted him more than 1,000 records. "They had a flat wagon haybed stacked with old records and I bought them all for $5." You can't do that now, he pointed out, although you can still pick up old records at was invented by Thomas A. Edison in 1880 and the Columbia Gramophone was patented in 1885. In the following 15 to 20 years, improvements in the instrument were made and recording firms were stumbling over themselves trying to promote the "talking machine."

Adapter kits were sold as improvements were made. Sears & Roebuck sold machines under its own trade name. Some early trade names were the "zonoophone," "Graphophone" and "Victrola."

Porcelain search

By JEAN BARNES

Nostalgia has added a new dimension to the young marrieds' budget. It's fashionable to shop the second-hand stores and flea markets for household furnishings.

It's even possible for this year's bride to accumulate a good set of porcelain dinnerware without a tremendous outlay of cash. It will take some study and judicious buying but it can be done.

This is the porcelain that was sold in jewelry stores, department stores and even dime stores at the turn of the century. Much of it came from Carlsbad (or Karlsbad), Czechoslovakia, and was made for import to the United States.

Other porcelain centers in Europe made porcelain for export. You also will find Austria, Bavaria or the name of other European countries on the back of each piece. This "country of origin" label on porcelain means that it was manufactured after 1891 due to tariff legislation requirements.

Often these wares, many of good quality, were imported without decoration. A 100-piece set of Bavarian white porcelain sold for about $40 in the 1920s.

Mums for all seasons

Garden chrysanthemums are those rare birds of the horticultural world which, thanks to decades of research, are the true year-around flower. If your garden looked less perfect last summer than you had hoped, or if for any reason, you planted late, let mums save the day. Color points of garden mums placed in sunny locations around your garden will give you a summer and fall garden to be envied.

The Masterpiece collection of garden mums, a recent introduction to the home gardener by Yoder Brothers of Barberton, Ohio, are particularly adaptable. They will "pick up where they left off" at the garden center and make themselves totally at home in your yard, even when planted during the summer months. Summer planting of mums has been the additional advantage of allowing of allowing the plants to become strongly established before winter.

By the time you are summer shopping for Masterpiece garden mums they will probably have been pinched once and are already displaying the typical short, compact and bushy growth characteristic of the entire Masterpiece group. By late July or August some growers may have early-shaded varieties of Masterpiece mums available. These have been shaded in the greenhouse to produce blossoms several weeks earlier than normal. If you want to enjoy masterpiece mums even sooner in your yard, perhaps as the background for an early fall garden party, ask for these specially-developed Masterpiece plants.

... buying early-shaded or regular garden mums for immediate transplanting, it's a good idea to water them thoroughly so the roots come out of the pot undisturbed in a good ball of soil. For each plant dig a hole one inch deeper and wider than the root ball. Firm the roots in by pushing the soil toward the stem. Water again thoroughly and fertilize with one tablespoon of dry 5-10-5 or 4-12-4 fertilizer per plant.

Masterpiece mums adapt readily from pots to garden bed. With care they will change environments without hesitation in their normal growth sequence. The happy result for you will be a gallery of color within a few weeks. From mid-September to frost Masterpiece mum gardens glow with the special beauty of fall coloring and provide many bouquets for indoor arrangement.

RB Furniture prices are now more unbeatable than ever!

New RB factory for more than 52 stores

RB Furniture has rapidly grown to more than 52 stores strong, with several under construction and many in the planning stages for 1975. AND NOW WE HAVE OUR OWN FACTORY AS WELL. In response to the ever-increasing demand for RB home furnishings, our new furniture factory, the most modern and efficient such facility in the country, has moved into full swing production. Our own staff creates RB originals available exclusively at RB showroom-stores. We have the systems and techniques to control quality from design to completion so you get a better product at a lower price. And it's made to order in your choice of fabric (and with faster delivery).

Compare RB prices to other prices

Everything cost more in 1974 so at RB Furniture we've had to grow faster, work harder and be smarter than anyone else to keep our prices lower. Look at how prices for basic goods and services, according to the Consumer Price Index, have increased in the last four years.

DOLLAR INCREASES IN RETAIL PRICES OF BASIC CONSUMER GOODS & SERVICES FROM 1971 TO 1974.

Based on Consumer Price Index, Unadjusted Prices for August, 1971, and July, 1974.

A market basket of food cost 35% more in 1974 than it did in 1971, medical services soared 22%, housing and transportation were each up 20%, clothing increased 13%, and reading and recreation was up 12%. In contrast, home furnishing prices show the least increase, only 8% in four years. Even in today's market, home furnishings are a good investment, and our better quality and lower prices make RB Furniture your best investment!

RB controlled prices

In times like these the best investment advice you can get comes from cold hard facts like these:

In 1971 the versatile add-on pieces of our mix and match bedroom outfit started at	$29.	In 1974 the units of our add-on bedroom outfit in bright new colors start at	$33.
In 1971 our RB original design 8' sofa was a best seller at	$189.	In 1974 our new original design 8' sofa is very popular at	$199.
In 1971 a totally coordinated master bedroom cost	$699.	In 1974 our new version of the bedroom price is still	$699.
In 1971 our five-piece dinette set was priced at	$219.	In 1974 our terrific new five-piece dinette costs	$239.
In 1971 a big, comfortable La-Z-Boy recliner was	$189.	In 1974 today's La-Z-Boy recliner is as great as ever at	$199.
In 1971 our Olefin striped and solid sofa was very popular at	$219.	In 1974 our version of the striped and solid sofa is	$239.
In 1971 our crushed velvet occasional chair cost	$99.	In 1974 the updated crushed velvet chair is	$109.

These are typical RB values from RB advertisements. In year after year of inflation, for item after item, you'll find that RB Furniture has controlled prices. How have we been able to do it?

Constant RB improvements give you better dollar value

We control prices by making continuous improvements in materials, merchandising and production methods, so every year RB furnishings become even more beautiful, more durable, more easy-care, while staying as economical as ever. This year we've added our super new factory to give you better home furnishings at lower prices and we intend to go on working hard to make continual improvements.

Consistent RB Furniture customer services

We always make service as important as selling. Even with fuel and maintenance costs up 30% and more, we still make every delivery without charge. Installation and professional decorating service are included in every RB CONTROLLED PRICE, no matter what. Our reputation depends on your satisfaction, so your investment is always secured by RB Furniture's special five year warranty. Any wonder we were the only retailer to win the Ethics in Merchandising Diogenes Award.

At RB Furniture you can fill your home without emptying your wallet.

Methodist women to participate in prayer

The Call to Prayer and Self-Denial for women of the San Dimas and La Verne United Methodist churches will be held at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday Jan. 7, at the La Verne Methodist Church.

The women's division of the United Methodist Board of Global Ministries sponsors the call to prayer and self-denial and has designated two aspects of the large United Methodist mission program to benefit from this year's special offering.

In the United States, the offering will be used for "Deaconess and Home Missionary Pensions." Through this Christian service the lives of many retirees will be enriched. These persons — teachers, nurses, social workers, church and community workers and educators — have served as the link between the church and vast numbers of persons in the U.S.

Overseas, the offering will be directed toward "Theological Renewal and the Church." Persons are involved in telling their stories of faith out of their own history. Their theological thinking is a combination of reflecting and acting, as they struggle with the question of how the gospel is to be expressed in the face of the realities of today's world and amid the tensions between peoples and cultures.

The service for the day, "Transformation of the Self and the World," was written by Peggy Billings, staff member of the board of Global Ministries of the United Methodist Church.

United Methodist Women is the successor body to two former denominational women's groups.

Ministers' group to note week of prayer

A committee of the Ontario Ministerial Association has announced plans for two special observances of the "Week of Prayer for Christian Unity" later in January.

On Sunday evening, Jan. 19, at 7 p.m. a community

Church adds day care to preschool

Beginning Jan. 6, a new Enriched Day Care Program will be launched by Ontario First Baptist Church's Preschool. Children from ages two years and nine months through five years old will be included during the morning session in the regular programs and learning experiences of the morning pre-school with special educational enrichment experiences being part of the afternoon program as well.

This represents the third expansion of the Pre-school of Ontario First Baptist Church which began in 1964 as a morning pre-school. In 1969, the school was licensed to have a special class for children with motor sensory needs. That class was expanded in the summer of 1974 to a full-day program.

The enriched day care program represents another attempt on the part of the pre-school to serve the widest possible number of individuals in the community. The program will be supervised by Mrs. Martha Westfall who has served as director of the school since August of 1973. She has previously served as pre-school director at the Circle City Nursery School in Corona.

A staff of twelve teachers and aides serve in the three programs of the Ontario First Baptist Pre-school. Inquiries are invited by calling 986-6513, or 986-4533.

ecumenical service of prayer and worship will be held in the sanctuary at First United Methodist Church, Euclid Avenue and "I" Street. The speaker will be the Rev. Msgr. John R. Portman who is chairman of the Diocesan Ecumenical Commission for the Diocese of San Diego for the Roman Catholic Church. The service will highlight special music by a combined choir representing several Ontario congregations. This will be directed by Frank Alpers, minister of music at First Baptist Church of Ontario.

On Wednesday, Jan. 22, at 6:30 p.m., there will be a special "Week of Prayer Dinner and Dialogue" evening held at Bethel Congregational Church located on Euclid Avenue at "F" St. The dinner will have as its theme, "An Experience in Sharing," and will stress the need for Christians to work together in dealing with the urgent problems of hunger in the world. There will then be seven to ten small discussion groups to deal with the theme of this year's Week of Unity, "Reconciled by the Christ Who Renews, Frees, and Unites."

Self love to be studied in class

A group study class of the book "I'm OK - You're OK" will be conducted every Thursday evening beginning tonight from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in the Christian Fellowship Center of the Valley Community Drive-In Church, Lone Hill Ave. and Covina Blvd., in San Dimas, by Senior Pastor Melvin De Vries.

Purpose of the class is to help people feel good about themselves while learning how to change personal habits which may not reflect what the individual would like to be. Participants will discuss how to build communication between parents, and parents and children.

Pastor Mel says, "The Bible commands us to 'love our neighbor as ourselves.' Most people find difficulty loving their neighbor because they really haven't learned how to love themselves. You can change. This course will help you do just that."

There is no charge for the class but students are asked to bring a copy of the book for their own use. Special guests, interesting exercises and taped reviews will add variety to the weekly program. People of all ages and creeds are welcome — the course is open to singles or couples. Call the church for more information at 714-599-6767.

Christ Lutheran plans new year

Christ Lutheran Church of Chino will start the new year with the addition of an 8:15 a.m. service. The 10:45 a.m. service will continue unchanged with Sunday Bible classes held between the two services.

In the new year, members of the congregation will be encouraged to learn and recite Bible verses to summarize and strengthen their faith. Learning verses will prepare them to tell others of the Christian faith, according to the Rev. Aaron L. Plueger, pastor. The church is at 5500 Francis Ave., Chino.

About Headaches That Ache Here, Here And Here

By DR. W. P. HELZER, D.C.

I have headaches . . . here, here and here. That's not a migraine is it, Doc? Probably not. But if it's a chronic condition. They can be just as painful, just as unbearable and present just as serious problems to a patient's well-being.

Dr. W. P. Helzer, D.C.

A patient who can put his finger on his head-ache is very possibly suffering from a cervical headache. Frequently they become chronic conditions and affect a person almost as regularly as the sun rises and sets.

The general pattern of the cervical headache pain is that it is present in the morning, subsides during the day and recurs at a few hours in late afternoon.

It is accompanied by tender spots in the scalp and neck.

Cervical headache pain is located in the back of the head and upper neck and radiates forward to the temple. Occasionally the pain is referred to the eye. Less frequently burning pain is experienced across the shoulders and upper back.

What causes a cervical headache?

Most are due to irritation to the upper spinal nerves as they pass through small partially occluded openings in the spine near the base of the skull. The irritated nerves then pass through the soft tissues of the scalp where they are compressed to the point of pain.

The irritation to these upper spinal nerves can be caused by a fall or jolt to the head, neck or back (and commonly caused in auto accidents); through hereditary spinal defects; or from constant muscular tension due to stress brought on by the fast pace of modern day living.

By the very nature of the conditions that cause cervical headaches, they virtually always become chronic problems if left untreated.

And the difficulties generally do not stop with a daily head-ache either. Recurring headaches cause nervous tension that in turn can develop into chronic nervousness, digestive problems and irregularity or insomnia.

Individuals with headaches and tender spots in the scalp and neck should seek immediate treatment and care. And headache pills and drugs are not the answer.

You must remember, pain pills sold across the counter offer, at best, "temporary relief," if any. It is accompanied by tender spots in the scalp and neck.

Cervical headache pain is located in the back of the head and upper neck and radiates forward to the temple. Occasionally the pain is referred to the eye. Less frequently burning pain is experienced across the shoulders and upper back.

Headaches due to irritation of the upper spinal nerves usually respond readily to the specialized care offered by the Doctor of Chiropractic.

Quite honestly, our goal is the permanent correction of a headache problem. It's a joyous day for both Doctor and the patient who no longer has a headache he can put his finger on.

1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
3/4 cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup mashed banana (2 medium-small bananas)
1 cup coarsely chopped California walnuts

Melt shortening and chocolate together over hot water. Meanwhile, resift flour with baking powder and salt; set aside. Beat eggs with sugar and vanilla until light. Add chocolate mixture and beat until well blended. Stir in banana.

3/4 cup granulated sugar
3 unbleached egg whites
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Walnut pieces

Grate walnuts, using a (Mouli) grater. Or, put a quarter cup at a time into a blender and blend very fine. Combine with sugar, egg whites and salt. Stir over very low heat, using a rubber spatula, about 10 minutes, until mixture is so thick that a clear path is left for a second or two when Walnut banana brownies add nutritional dimension to snacking. Cake-like bar cookies are ideal for the youngsters as they go back to school, and Mom and Dad also can stock up on energy while enjoying these snacks.

Add flour mixture, then add 3/4 cup walnuts, mixing well. Turn batter into greased 9-inch square pan. Sprinkle with reserved walnuts. Bake at 350 degrees for about 35 minutes, until top springs back when touched lightly in center and tooth pick inserted in center comes out clean and dry. Let stand until cool. Cut into 1 1/2 x 2 inch bars. Makes 24 bar cookies.

3/4 cup California walnuts spatula is drawn across pan. Remove from heat and add vanilla. Grease a cookie sheet and dust with flour. Drop batter by teaspoonfuls onto pan. Top each with a piece of walnut. Let stand at room temperature for 1 hour. Bake at 300 degrees for about 25 minutes, until golden brown. Remove from cookie sheet to wire racks at once. As soon as cookies are cool, store in tightly covered container. Makes about 20 macaroons.

And add frankfurters

Rice, soup

Meat goes a lot further when you combine it with the right menu-extending ingredients... such as rice and soup.

A package of frankfurters, for example, can generously serve six people when you combine it with three cups of cooked rice, a can of Cheddar cheese soup and a few extra herbs and seasonings.

Or two cups of diced cooked chicken becomes a meal for six when you add cooked rice, and two cans of cream of mushroom soup, plus flavoring accents.

By combining cream of celery soup and some Cheddar cheese with the cooked rice, plus some frozen broccoli and seasonings, you convert one package of frankfurters into a tasty casserole that feeds six.

Budget-minded meals aren't difficult although they may take a few more minutes to prepare. The extra time resulting from chopping or cutting, and adding the various ingredients which provide unique flavor and appetite appeal... such as prepared mustard, sliced ripe olives, or a sprinkling of Parmesan cheese.

Rice is the ingredient that does the extending... and providing essential nutritional values, as well.

Striving for economy is one thing; sacrificing nutrition is another.

These recipes have been developed by a registered dietitian with both goals in mind.

Cheesy Frankfurter Casserole

2 packages (10 oz. each) frozen chopped broccoli
1 can (10 1/2-oz.) condensed cream of celery soup
2 cups cubed sharp Cheddar cheese
1/2 cup milk
1 teaspoon onion powder
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
6 drops Tabasco pepper sauce
3 cups cooked rice
1 package (12 to 16 oz.) frankfurters, cut into 1" pieces
Cook broccoli according to package directions. Drain well. Set aside. Heat soup, 1 cup cheese, milk, onion powder, mustard, and pepper sauce. Stir in rice, franks, and broccoli. Turn into a greased shallow 2-quart casserole. Top with remaining cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes or until hot and bubbly. Makes 6 servings.

Wurstfest and Rice

1 cup chopped onions
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 large green pepper, cut in 1" cubes

1 package (16 oz.) smoked frankfurters, cut in thirds
1 can (11 oz.) condensed Cheddar cheese soup
1/2 cup beer

4 teaspoons prepared mustard
5 to 6 drops Tabasco pepper sauce
3 cups hot cooked rice
2 tablespoons sweet pickle relish

Saute onions in butter until tender, but not brown. Add green pepper and franks. Cook 3 minutes longer. Stir in soup, beer, mustard, and pepper sauce. Simmer until thoroughly heated. Serve over beds of fluffy rice. Top each serving with 1 teaspoon sweet pickle relish. Makes 6 servings.

3 cups cooked rice, 2 cups diced cooked chicken, 2 cans of mushroom soup... viola, a meal for 6!

Chicken-Mushroom Casserole

1 cup chopped onions
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 cup each chopped celery and green peppers

2 cups diced cooked chicken
3 cups cooked rice
1/2 cup chopped ripe olives, optional

2 cans (10 1/2-oz. each) condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Saute onions in butter until tender, but not brown. Stir in celery, green peppers, chicken, rice, olives, soup, and seasonings. Spoon into a greased shallow 2-quart casserole. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese and bake 5 minutes longer. Makes 6 servings.

Bran gives dietary fiber

Is your family getting enough fiber in its diet? Most of us try to plan meals that contain the necessary vitamins and minerals, and enough protein, carbohydrate, and fats. But recently, more and more nutritionists are telling us we should also be concerned about 'dietary fiber' if we wish to maintain good health.

What is dietary fiber and where is it found? Fiber is simply the roughage in food, such as cellulose and other substances which help the food to move through the digestive tract more quickly. Good sources of fiber are fresh fruits and vegetables and the outer bran layers of whole grains.

If you're giving your family lots of raw fruits and vegetables and making the switch to whole grains in your baking and the breads you purchase, you may be getting enough fiber. But let's face it, most of us do not get enough. Cooking and baking with bran is an easy and delicious way to help you get your quota.

Our recipes call for raw, unprocessed bran flakes which you can find in health food stores, and should not be confused with ready-to-eat cereals which contain some bran.

Unprocessed bran flakes are a versatile ingredient; use them in meatloaf or hamburgers, pancakes or waffles, piecrust, granola, cookies, other baked goods.

Bran Brown Bread is an easy-to-make quick bread, the traditional dark brown loaf that is often served with Boston baked beans and cole slaw. This delicious bread is moist and tender on the inside, dark and crusty on the outside. It is so quick and tasty you'll want to bake extra loaves for friends and family or put them in your freezer.

How about treating the family to homemade Bran English Muffins? These are made with yeast and full of nutritious ingredients. Our version uses just enough bran and stone ground whole wheat flour to give the muffins that interesting whole grain taste and texture which is so popular today.

Bran Brown Bread

1 cup raisins
1/3 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup honey
1 egg
1 3/4 cups sifted unbleached white flour
1 1/2 teaspoons soda
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup less 2 tablespoons water
1/4 cup dark molasses
1 cup unprocessed bran

flakes

Soak raisins in warm water 15 to 20 minutes and drain. In a large bowl, cream together butter, honey and egg. Sift together flour, soda, baking powder, and salt, adding flour mixture to the creamed mixture alternately with the water and molasses. Add raisins and bran flakes, and combine thoroughly. Pour batter into a well-buttered loaf pan (9 x 5 x 3 inches). Bake in a 350 degree oven about 1 hour, or until bread tests done.

Many variations of this quickbread are possible:

Banana Bran Brown Bread—Use only 3/4 cup water and fold in 1/2 cup mashed banans and 1/2 cup finely chopped walnuts.

Date 'n Bacon Bran Brown Bread—Omit raisins and add 1/4 cup chopped dates and 1/2 cup crisp crumbled bacon to the basic recipe.

Orange Bran Brown Bread—Omit water and substitute 1 cup orange juice in the basic recipe. Add 2 tablespoons grated orange rind.

Bran English Muffins
1 cup milk, scalded and cooled (110-115 degrees)
1 tablespoon (1 envelope) dry granular yeast
1/2 cup warm water (*110-115 degrees)
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons honey

Brown Bread are typical of the increased interest in darker, more whole bran breads.

1 cup unprocessed bran flakes
2 cups stone ground whole wheat flour
2 cups unbleached white flour
3 tablespoons soft butter or margarine

Dissolve yeast in warm water and add honey. In a large mixing bowl, combine milk, yeast mixture, salt, and bran flakes. Mix the two flours together with a fork in another bowl. Gradually beat one-half the flour mixture into the liquid mixture. Cover bowl and allow the sponge to rise in a warm place (85 degrees) for about 1 to 1 1/2 hours, until double in bulk and very light.

Beat in soft butter or margarine. Stir in remaining flour, reserving about 1/4 cup for kneading on board. Knead until smooth. Pat or press dough until about 3/4 inch thick. Cut into rounds about 3 inches in diameter. (A 7-ounce tuna can with both ends removed makes a good cutter.) Cover and let rest on floured board until double in bulk, about 45 minutes. Lift rounds carefully from board with pancake turner and place on a lightly buttered electric griddle, preheated to 300 degrees. Bake uncovered for 10 to 12 minutes on each side or until lightly browned, turning only once. Split and toast or serve hot from the griddle. Makes 12 to 14 muffins.

Change of pace food

It's always nice to have a low-calorie entree around to help cut down on calories during super-rich holiday eating. Many families revert to soups and salads for a change of pace. Here are three filling potato soups that range from 90 to 130 calories per serving.

Caesar Soup

1 cup thin sliced potatoes, unpeeled
1 clove garlic, pressed
1 tablespoon olive oil
4 cups chicken broth
4 cups chopped Romaine lettuce
3 anchovy fillets, rinsed
Juice of 1/2 lemon
Salt and pepper
Croutons
1 teaspoon Parmesan cheese
Cook potatoes with the garlic in olive oil over low heat until potatoes are limp. Add the chicken broth and chopped lettuce. Cover and simmer for 15 minutes. Add anchovies and lemon juice and simmer for 2 or 3 minutes. Puree the mix in the blender or food mill. Add salt and pepper to taste. Serve hot or chilled garnished with croutons and Parmesan cheese. Ninety calories per serving. Makes 4 servings.

Green Goddess Soup

1 cup thinly sliced potatoes, unpeeled
1/2 medium onion, sliced
1 tablespoon butter
2 cups chopped watercress
2 cups chopped parsley
1 can (4-ounce) waterpacked artichoke hearts, chopped
1 cup chicken broth
1 teaspoon tarragon
2 cups low-fat milk
Salt and pepper
Watercress
Small cooked shrimp
Cook potatoes and onion in butter until limp. Add watercress, parsley, artichoke hearts, chicken broth and tarragon. Cover and simmer for 15 minutes. Add milk and simmer 1 minute. Blend soup or put through a food mill. Add salt and pepper to taste. Serve hot or chilled garnished with watercress and small cooked shrimp. Has 133 calories per serving. Makes 4 servings.

Garden Salad Soup

1 cup thinly sliced potatoes, unpeeled
1 cup chopped green onions
1 tablespoon butter
2 cups diced cucumber
2 cups shredded butter lettuce
3 cups chicken broth
1 teaspoon dill weed
1 carton (8 ounces) plain yoghurt
Salt and Pepper
Sliced radishes
Cook potatoes and green onions in butter until onions are limp. Add cucumber, lettuce, chicken broth and dill. Cover and simmer gently for 15 minutes. Stir in yoghurt and whiz in blender or put it through a food mill. Add salt and pepper to taste. Serve hot or chilled, garnished with radishes.

What could be better when coming off that holiday eating spree than delicious soups such as Caesar Soup (potato) Green Goddess Soup or Garden Salada Soup? Try any of these for a change of pace.

Youthful appetites

Getting small children or teen-agers to eat properly is almost as difficult as teaching a cat to swim. And no fun for anyone concerned.

Fad or crash diets — no carbohydrate but high protein (beef mostly) is a popular one — to keep the baby fat in control mean many youths go around feeling tired and listless. The body's first demand from food is energy and it takes many types of foods to make the body work efficiently. Nutritionists, therefore, point out that the more balanced a meal, the more efficiently the food is absorbed by the body ... and put to healthful use. Carbohydrates are easily converted, high sources of energy.

However, too often we tend to go overboard on carbohydrates such as stuffing ourselves with too much bread or pastry. For a healthful switch encourage youngsters to enjoy their carbohydrates via a natural food. For example, most like bananas which are easy to eat and not messy.

Serve them as a main dish, snack, hot vegetable, as a dessert or in a chilled salad. For non-breakfast eaters or even for a healthful lunch try serving the school-age set Banana Cottage Cheese Coffee Cake or Banana Cottage Cheese Pancakes.

Banana Cottage Cheese Coffee Cake

1/2 cup small curd creamed cottage cheese
2 eggs
1/3 cup salad oil
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup mashed ripe bananas (3 medium)
1 1/2 cups unsifted all-purpose flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup wheat germ
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon baking soda

In a large bowl, beat cottage cheese until smooth. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Blend in oil, vanilla and bananas. Mix together flour, sugar, wheat germ, baking powder, cinnamon, nutmeg, salt and baking soda. Blend into banana batter. Turn into a well greased 1-and-a-half-quart baking dish. Top with Streusel Topping. Bake in 375-degree oven 45 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Serve warm or cool, cut in wedges. Makes 8 servings.

Banana Cottage Cheese Pancakes

3 eggs, separated
1 cup (8 ounces) cottage cheese
1/4 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup unsifted all-purpose flour
1/4 cup diced banana
Butter or margarine
Slice bananas
Hot maple-flavored syrup
In small bowl beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; set aside. In another bowl, with same beater, beat cottage cheese and egg yolks until nearly smooth. Add salt. Gradually beat in flour. Stir in diced banana. Fold in egg whites. Using about 1/4 cup batter for each pancake, cook on greased preheated griddle. Serve with butter, topped with banana slices and hot syrup. Makes 4 servings.

California's wine crop approaching '73 record yield

It appears now that California's 1974 grape crop will be over 3 1/2 million tons, approaching 1973's record yield (3.9 million). For America's wine enthusiasts, more good news is that some 30,000 acres of premium grape varieties are coming into bearing for the first time. The 1974 growing season has generally been excellent, which will also insure the quality of the California vintage. Harvesting is a little later than usual in some north coast vineyards and growers hope there will be no inclement weather before the crop is in.

In the marketplace, overall California wine shipments were about level, but California table wine sales continued to increase. Shipments of table wine in the first half of 1974 totalled over 88 million gallons, almost 4 million gallons more than the same period in 1973, a jump of 4.4 per cent from last year. Although less steep, this continues a trend of constant growth for California table wines, which have averaged ten per cent increases over the last five years. In sharp contrast to this, sales of European wines are down. An article in Wine & Spirits, the British trade journal, blames sharply increased prices for this depression, while also noting that California wines have held the line better on prices.

Harry G. Serlis, president of Wine Institute, the California wine industry's trade association, noted that prospects for consumers are excellent.

SBA loans can shore up small firms

In what seems an utterly mystifying upturn, bank loans to business and industry have continued to rise week after week to new all-time peaks — in the face of an obviously deepening economic slump and unmistakable indications that corporations are pulling back on spending for new plants and equipment.

Why? On the surface of it, the increases make no sense at all. And Federal Reserve Board chairman Arthur Burns surely knew what he was saying when he explained that a slackening demand for credit was a key reason for the early December reduction in the discount rate — the basic borrowing rate of the nation at which your neighborhood banks themselves borrow funds from the Central Bank in order to have the money to make loans in turn to you.

But underneath the surface, there is a fundamental reason — and it's not pretty. That reason is:

There are increasingly what Wall Street very quietly calls "survival" loans. In some cases, the money is being borrowed by even our giant corporations to help carry inventories of goods built up to top-heavy levels in anticipation of buyers who simply haven't shown up. In other cases, the money is being borrowed by big businesses struggling to replenish their cash balances to "safe" totals. In still others, the loans are truly for survival, for without them, the businesses would face bankruptcy.

There is no comparison between this type of borrowing and the inflation-feeding loans of the recent past — which represented money borrowed to finance major expansion and modernization programs and to build the inventories now causing so much trouble.

And mind you, it's big business — that always finds it easiest to get money even in the tightest credit periods — obtaining the bulk of the loans now. Smaller businesses usually are near the end of the line — understandable if not commendable at a time when lenders are trying to avoid undue risks.

This is why it's more important than ever for you to become thoroughly familiar with a major source of credit — the Small Business Administration and its broad range of regular and special loan programs designed for you. You must meet the rules: be unable to get funds from a private lender on reasonable terms; qualify as "small" under the SBA's definition; have the appropriate credit standing.

Q. How do you apply for a SBA loan?

A. If you are an established business, prepare a current balance sheet and a profit-and-loss statement for the previous full year and for the current period to the date of the balance sheet, along with personal financial statements of the owner and each partner or stockholder owning 20 per cent or more of the business. Prepare a list of the collateral you will offer and give your best estimate of its current value.

Take the material to a bank (or in cities of more than 200,000 population to two banks). If you cannot get the financing, then write or visit your nearest SBA office.

If you are a new business, describe the type of business to be established and the owner's experience and management capabilities. Prepare an estimate of how much can be invested in the business and how much must be borrowed.

Be ready to submit to the bank a personal financial statement, a detailed projection of earnings for the first year the business will operate and a list of collateral to be offered.

Q. What can you use the funds for?

A. Business construction, conversion or expansion, purchase of equipment, facilities, machinery, supplies, working capital.

Q. What about the interest rate?

A. The rate on loans made directly by the SBA as well as SBA's share of loans made jointly with a bank may not exceed 6 1/2 per cent. Within certain limits, banks may set the rate on loans they make to small firms.

Q. What kind of collateral is required?

A. Mortgages on land, buildings or equipment; assignment of warehouse receipts for marketable merchandise, mortgages on chattels and guarantees or personal endorsements. In some instances, assignment of current receivables is acceptable.

Q. Where can I get more information?

A. Write to the SBA, Washington, D.C. 20416, for its pamphlet, "SBA Business Loans" OPE-18, dated January 1973.

College in Claremont gets grant

CLAREMONT — Harvey Mudd College is among eight independent institutions of higher education which will share in Union Oil Company of California Foundation grants totaling $34,000, Joseph B. Platt, president of the college, has announced.

According to Arthur C. Stewart, president of the foundation, the grant is to be applied to scholarship programs for students of demonstrated superior character, good citizenship, ability and ambition.

Harvey Mudd College was selected, he said, because of its "close student-faculty relationship and because it is in a position to offer deserving students maximum opportunities for self-development and advancement."

Other schools which will receive grants under the foundation's Aid To Deserving Students Program for the school year include: Claremont Men's College, Northrop Institute of Technology, Northwestern University, Occidental College, Pomona College, University of Redlands and the University of San Diego.

U.S. embassy features work of LVC artist

LA VERNE — Two works of Joella Mahoney, associate professor of art at La Verne College, were included in the gala opening of a new art display at the American Embassy in Jakarta, Indonesia.

A set of two oil paintings entitled "Death Valley California" will be part of the chosen collection of David Newsom, recently appointed ambassador.

Under the Art in the Embassies Program, painting, sculptures and ceramics representing the various styles and periods of American art are borrowed from museums, galleries, private collections and artists for their display in chancery or residence.

Specials for those shady spots

Those shady spots in your garden can be just as lush and colorful as the sun filled areas.

One of the easiest shade shrubs to grow is the greenleaf aucuba. It can always be counted on to produce a full mass of large, glossy green serrated leaves and, as fall turns to winter a crop of glistening large red berries. The greenleaf aucuba grows to about 10 feet high at maturity. With a little pruning, it may be confined to smaller spaces.

The greenleaf aucuba is not the only aucuba suited to planting in shady places. One of the most popular types of aucubas is the familiar gold dust plant. This one is heavily flecked with yellow variegation — giving it the appearance of being sprinkled with gold dust. You apartment dwellers also will be delighted with this aucuba. Given filtered or indirect light, the gold dust plant will grow to a height of about three feet tall indoors.

Another hardy choice for the shade is sarcococca. Native to the Himalayas, this small shrub will thrive in even deeply shaded spots. It is just the thing for planting under shade trees, overhangs or in dimly lit garden alcoves. In spring sarcococca sets out a mass of tiny white flowers.
